

Juanitta Lang
Firefighter for 9 years
Poulsbo, WA Fire Department

Juanitta has a heart for others, which is evident in all facets of her life. As a now part-time ER nurse at Harrison Hospital Bremerton, Juanitta was also a volunteer firefighter for the City of Poulsbo for 9 years. She and her husband, Vashon Island Fire and Rescue Fire Captain Joshua Munger, have participated in the Firefighter Tower Climb for Leukemia for a combined 21 years.

Juanitta was diagnosed with Leukemia in 2017, after finding lumps in her neck. She is now working with doctors at Cancer Care Alliance to find new targeted therapies. In addition to the physical, emotional, and financial challenges that go along with fighting cancer, Juanitta and Joshua are also raising their 5 grandchildren, ages 12, 7, 22-months, and 9-year-old twins. Even as she fights for her life and remains a committed wife, mother, and grandmother, Juanitta still makes time for 2 shifts a month at Harrison Hospital Bremerton's ER.
